

PEAREY, JOHNK MAKE COACHES ALL-N. C. TEAM

Cardinal Back, Center
Honored On Star
Eleven

RULE CHANGED

Harold Johnk, center, and Leo Pearey, halfback, were selected for the North Central Conference team, according to an announcement made Wednesday. Johnk, who is a junior, and Pearey, a senior, have been outstanding throughout the year for the Cardinals, and were also placed on the N. I. A. A. team a few weeks ago, along with Howard Sorensen, tackle, and Noel King, guard. The team was selected at a meeting of all the coaches in Chicago Tuesday.

Several coaches insisted that a junior college student, who has completed his full two years, may enter a North Central college without playing a year of freshman football, which is required by all of the schools of new men. After much debate, the rule was modified so that any student finishing two years of study in another college of equal standing, but which does not offer a bachelor's degree, can become eligible for athletic competition within the North Central group immediately.

Bisons Get Nine

No effort was made by the coaches to select a first and second all-conference team, but instead, twenty-two men were chosen. North Dakota State placed the most, with nine men on the honor roll. North Dakota University gained six places; South Dakota State, four; Omaha University, two; and South Dakota University, one.

Debaters Make January Trips

The Omaha University debate squad has accepted two invitations to tournaments in the month of January.

One contest will be held on January 11, at the Northwest Missouri Teachers' College, Maryville, Mo. The other tournament will take place on January 24 at the University of South Dakota at Vermillion, So. Dak.

One men's team and one women's team from Omaha University will participate in each contest.

Haynes Studies Urban Colleges

President Rowland Haynes visited three municipal university campuses and conferred with administrative heads of many other such institutions while making a trip to Boston to attend the twenty-second annual meeting of the Association of Urban Universities held there the 11th and 12th of November. Thirty-five universities located in sixteen states were represented at the meeting.

The three campuses visited were in Akron, Cincinnati and Toledo, Ohio. The Akron campus is the only one located near the center of the downtown business section. The Toledo campus is about three and a half miles out on a highway similar to Dodge street and is about 30 minutes from the center of town by bus, according to President Haynes. This shows that accessibility does not necessarily mean being within a few blocks of the downtown business center.

President Haynes pointed out that the Toledo institution gets a smaller allotment of city funds than our school does and yet it is three times as large as our Omaha Municipal University. He also remarked that the Toledo university buildings were efficiently grouped around a quadrangle.

Haynes made a study of the work-study plan used at Antioch College with a view toward possibly offering such a plan here in the future.

Organize Debate Tournament For Campus Groups

Professor Dayton E. Heckman, debate coach, is organizing an intra-mural debate tournament to arouse interest in and gather talent for the University debate squad.

All the Greek organizations and the non-affiliated students on the campus have been asked to participate in the debates. The teams will be composed of four members from each sorority and fraternity and the Barbs. A plaque will be presented to the winning team of the University.

Judges for the debates will be faculty members and one member of the varsity debate squad.

Alpha Sigma Lambda, Phi Delta Psi, Pi Omega Pi, Sigma Chi Omicron, Theta Phi Delta and the Barb organization have announced that they will enter teams in the tournament.

RADIO TECHNIQUE CLUB ORGANIZED BY DRAMA GROUP

Vincent Heads New Club For Students
Of Dramatics

SUBER ASSISTS

A-Mar-Da is the name given to the newly organized club composed of University students interested in studying radio drama technique, according to Jane Vincent, organizer and first president of the group.

The organization is at the present time broadcasting once a week over WAAW. A different play is presented each Saturday afternoon from 2:00 to 2:30, and each member is given the opportunity to direct the production of at least one of the weekly presentations.

Mr. Ray Suber, of the KOIL staff, has consented to be the supervising director of the club, and arrangements have been made to secure the KOIL studios for rehearsal and coaching meetings. Mr. Suber has worked with the Omaha Community Playhouse, has directed the production of many local broadcasts on the various Omaha stations, and has acted character parts for some of the broadcast skits produced over KOIL.

Speaking of the club's new supervising director, Jane Vincent, president, said: "We are very fortunate in securing the services of such a competent man as Mr. Suber. His past experiences have well equipped him for the job of supervising and instructing us in our dramatic efforts."

The club will be interested in securing the names of students desiring to co-operate with the organization's dramatic pursuits, Miss Vincent said. Any of the officers may be consulted for further details.

The membership of the club includes Amy Rohacek, vice-president; Hazel Willard, secretary; Perry Rushlau, treasurer; Mary Owen, Susan Kemper, Ann Ulrich, Louise Riggs, Donald Reiser, Elbert Hoisington, Sylvan Frankel, Pat McNaughtin, Gordon Quiller, Bob King, Lewis Leigh, and Harold Pringle.

Theta Phi Delta fraternity will hold its monthly Fireside at Wilson's cabin Sunday, December 8.

Barbs Sponsor Unusual Dance

A dance, entitled the "Barbarian Invasion," will be presented by the non-Greeks, Saturday, December 14, in Jacobs' Hall. This is the first dance sponsored by the newly formed Barb organization.

The theme and decorations will carry out the barbarian theme. Two hundred tickets have been printed. Dr. A. Dayle Wallace, professor of English, is the group's sponsor.

Kenneth Turner, '36, president of the Barbs, is general chairman, and is assisted by Mary Ann Harrington, decorations chairman; Irvin Thompson, ticket chairman; Amos Hull, Bob Fritchhoff, Louise Riggs, Clara Williamson, Blandwyn Hollier, Dolly O'Bradovitch, Ruth Grenville and Virginia Lowe.

Student Council Buys Amplifier For Jacobs' Hall

The surplus resulting from the Homecoming dinner-dance October 25, will be applied on the purchase of a recording amplifier for school dances, it was decided at the Student Council meeting Wednesday, December 4.

The thirty-dollar surplus will not cover the expense of the machine, but the school will make up the difference, Kenneth Turner, president of the student council, said.

Dances will be held in Jacobs' Hall on Friday evenings when there are no other dances scheduled. A small charge will be made per person to pay for replacing records.

Turner prophesied free noon dances, since the operating expenses will be paid for by the evening dances.

Bids have been submitted and the machine will probably be selected by the end of the week. The amplifier will cost approximately one hundred dollars.

Pre-Meds Hear Omaha Physician

"Tropical Medicine" is the topic on which Dr. Aaron McMillan, Omaha physician, will speak to members of the Pre-Med club at their regular meeting Friday, December 6.

Dr. McMillan has had several years of actual experience with tropical medicine in Africa. He is now taking a post graduate course at the University of Nebraska College of Medicine.

YEARBOOK STAFF POSITIONS OPEN TO APPLICATIONS

Publications Board To Select Members Of Annual Staff

DUE DECEMBER 16

Applications for staff positions on the University annual must be in to the publications board chairman, Dr. W. D. Maclay, by noon, Monday, December 16.

Any member of the student body is eligible to one of these positions, which include editor, business manager, circulation manager, and six associate editors.

Application blanks may be secured from Dr. W. D. Maclay, temporary chairman of the board; Dr. A. Dayle Wallace, Dr. Lyman H. Harris, and student members, Faye Lane or John Moucka.

"It is not necessary for one to have had experience to apply, but naturally those will be selected who have the best qualifications for the respective positions," Dr. Maclay said.

An annual has not been published at Omaha University since 1929. Only after the backing of various campus organizations had been secured did the board decide to attempt such a publication. The Student Council, the Barbs and the Greek organizations all promised their support.

Dr. A. Dayle Wallace, who priced the expense of the proposed annual, discovered that the book could be sold for approximately two dollars a copy, if the seniors paid for their graduating picture cuts. A publications board meeting was held Monday, November 23, and the annual was approved on the basis of Dr. Wallace's estimates.

President Haynes Talks at Women's Faculty Banquet

President Rowland Haynes will address members of the faculty, Board of Regents, and administrative officers at the fifth annual faculty women's banquet to be held in the Paxton hotel ballroom this evening. He will speak on "The Municipal University in the Community."

The second speaker is William F. Baxter, former member of the Board of Regents, who has selected the topic, "Making of the Municipal University of Omaha," as his subject.

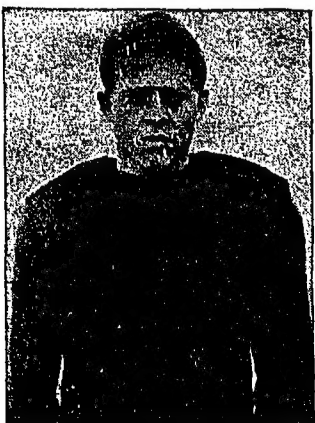

The committee in charge of the banquet, headed by Mrs. Laura M. Johnson, includes: Mrs. Clara Tow, Mrs. C. W. Helmstadter, Dr. Berthe Koch, Mrs. V. H. Vartanian, Mrs. Nell G. Gillard, Mrs. Irene Pierce, and Misses Pearl Schaefer, Jeanette Winters, and Ruth Diamond.

Decorations will be in green. Clusters of holly, hemlock, and evergreen will be used. Tables will be arranged in a semi-circle around the ballroom floor. Dr. Koch is in charge of decorations.

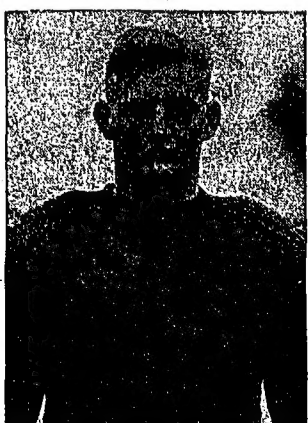

Seventy-five invitations have been issued. Mrs. Clara Tow and Miss Pearl Schaefer are in charge of arrangements for invitations.

Paul Christensen's orchestra will furnish musical selections.

THE DIRECTORY

Approximately two hundred copies of the Student Directory were sold on the campus this week and about the same number of complaints have been made either about misspelled names, wrong addresses and telephone numbers, or inaccurate listings of the various organizations. Some of the errors can be attributed to inefficient copyreading and inaccurate records secured from the registrar's office, but the majority of them are the fault of the students. A notice was printed in The Gateway stating that page proofs of the Directory would be posted in Joslyn Hall and asking that students check them for errors. The page proofs were on the bulletin board for one week. Each organization whose members were to be listed in the directory was asked to hand in their membership, officers and sponsors just as they wanted them to appear in the Directory. The publication of such a book entails a great deal of work and time, and as it is published entirely for the use of the students it would be to their advantage to co-operate with the staff of the Directory in making it accurate. As a whole, with its increased number of organizations and calendars listed, the Student Directory is an improvement over former years.

ALL-STARS

Leo Pearey and Harold Johnk have done more than make "just another" all-star football team.

Their selection to the all-North Central conference team is a personal tribute to them, of course. It is fitting recognition of the splendid game they have played individually all season and the fine sportsmanship they have displayed.

In addition to that, however, the honor they have gained is a tribute to Omaha University. Competing in the North Central conference for the first time, the University can take just pride in its record for the year. Not only have our teams done well against strong conference opponents, but our players have proved themselves among the best in a league composed of older and larger schools.

In the Nebraska Intercollegiate association, which Omaha has dominated on the gridiron for the past two years, the Cardinals were again outstanding as a team and as individuals. The Omahans won the championship with an undefeated conference record. In addition, four of our players—Howard Sorensen, Noel King, Johnk and Pearey—were named to the N. I. A. A. all-star eleven.

Omaha University is proud of these football men who are outstanding as individual players yet fit perfectly into the teamwork and co-operation necessary for a winning team.

Thru The Keyhole

We wonder if Stracka is trying to beat Nelson's time after all these years....It is beginning to look like Quiller and Kemper are getting that way.... From the last four dances it looks like Sklenicka and "Marky" are getting romantic as it seems.... We also hear that Vdgel forgot to show up at the Phi Sig meeting last Mon....Since scarlet fever has set into their ranks maybe he is the smart one after all.

THINGS THAT WE CAN'T UNDERSTAND

Why L. T. Woerner registered under an assumed name at Lincoln last week....and why Rogers used his right name at the same time....Who this Jack Mosher is in "Tommy's life."

We don't know who was the more shocked when Tony asked Leigh to the Pi O....Is Robertson getting romantic thoughts about this fellow Mangan?....We wonder....To whom it may concern, "Tiny" is not a free lancer and has no intentions of being one. Can't Weber resist the old Hash House or is it Benny that she comes to see all the time?.... Has Phillips got his eye on Lil Anderson or not?....We think that he has....Couldn't Belou see in Lincoln last week or didn't he know that the date he had had jealous eyes?....Poor Belou....and he was such a swell fellow, too....Wot's this we hear about Pete Larson going to school this semester, but quitting next semester because his girl is coming out here....Leroy Olsen has become quite the ladies' man....at least he thinks so....Recently the school was in search of a song....Francis Nelson suggests the following—To the tune of On Wisconsin.

N. Y. A., we're here to boost you,
While our colors fly.
We always shirk, we never work,
Because we never try.
Rah—Rah—Rah.
If in case you find us working,
Don't believe your eyes;
'Cause we never do a thing,
We re—a—lize.

Pretty, hu? It sort of grows on yah.

Tank heaven there's no more dances at the Gym....But again the cutting did come in handy once in a while....Sorry, but I must print this.... At the Gamma meeting Mon. night an alumni announced her secret marriage, and another announced her engagement....Yip—Yip. Errors in the Directory....Well, in several weeks an error sheet will appear to be inserted in the back of the Directory....Free, of course....Carolyn Brewer wanted a mention in this column....so here you are....We hear that Knipprath has acquired a five-dollar fortune....All debtors can find him at WA. 3496....Will someone please inform us as to who the Gay Divorcee is that Woerner has a date with New Years?....Congrats are in order for Fay Lane—most blonds choose brunettes, but some like carrot tops....Did you know that Doctor W. H. Thompson received a football letter at Omaha U. as a quarterback in 1916? Boy, you ought to see his picture in the old annual. It's a scream!

Plans for a College Theatre—Theatre Arts Monthly

The December issue of Theatre Arts Monthly contains the plans for a college theatre of modern architecture designed to harmonize with the Colonial architecture of Bennington College and to fulfill the manifold purposes of a college theatre. Bennington College, located in Bennington, Vermont, is smaller than Omaha University. Although it has only been in existence for three years, it has an endowment fund of more than a million dollars.

This proposed theatre has everything a college dramatic department could ask for—a large outdoor theatre seating more than 500, an indoor auditorium with indirect lighting seating almost 600, a stage and scene dock arranged for a possible depth of 92 feet, carpenter, costume, and dyeing shops, many adequate dressing rooms, and other modern theatrical conveniences.

Planned for a hillside location overlooking a broad valley, this theatre is expected to serve the needs of the college community and to contribute to the cultural life of the town of Bennington.

Place for Youth—Survey Graphic
(Beulah Amidon)

All students of sociology should read Beulah Amidon's article on the problems of the youth of today in the December Survey Graphic. The problems of obtaining a schooling, a job, and a little pocket money have tended to harden youth and to dim his characteristically optimistic outlook. There are more than five million young Americans who are neither in school nor at work. "No place to go, nothing to do." Emergency efforts reach some, but what of the others who find nothing but street corner idleness and disillusionment?

F. D. R. FINDS
Facial Doctor At OMAHA UNI.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt and the Liberty magazine collaborated recently to spread the fair name of Omaha University far and wide.

In the November 30 installment of "The President's Mystery Story," by President Roosevelt, appearing in the magazine, a character in the story comes to Omaha to have his features altered by a famous surgeon living here.

He is skeptical of the doctor's ability and is referred to Omaha University (of all places!), where the doctor teaches.

Thankful for the publicity, the Identification Division of the G. I. B. (Gateway Investigation Bureau) set out to discover who the famed facial surgeon in our midst might be. The best we could do in our search for the "map-changer" was to find that several of our "Docs" are noted for their ability to alter students' countenances suddenly by unexpectedly low exam grades and brilliant "squelching" remarks from the lecture pulpit.

TWO LITTLE TALES

This tale is told concerning one of the married men on the campus. It seems that in his pre-married days his mother decided that a surprise party was in order for his birthday.

She got in touch with one of his fraternity brothers and arranged to have him send out the invitations, which he did with a whim and a vigor, but he soon reached a snag when it became necessary to obtain a date for the beloved son. Our friend, who was to be surprised, was at the time going with three different girls and had persuaded each in believing that she was the one and only. Which one to invite? That was a problem, but it didn't stump the good brother for long. With a master stroke of inspiration he completed arrangements and settled down to await the party. It was a great success and to say the young man was surprised is to state is mildly. He was flabbergasted! Not one date did he have, but three dates. Until that moment each had considered herself the apple of his eye. Two of them never spoke to him again. The third? Yeah, you guessed it.

NUMBER TWO

The faculty member in charge of the debate team recently had a rather startling experience while waiting for a street car. It seems that he had entered into conversation with one of the feminine members of the debate squad who was also waiting for the same car. When the car arrived he stepped on, paid his fare, and started toward his seat, only to be stopped by the motorman.

"How about the lady?"

Surprised, he paused a minute waiting for the lady to make her own explanation, but to his embarrassment the young lady said nothing; just stood. Realizing that something must be done he reached in his pocket, extracted a quarter and bought three car-slugs. Depositing one, he replied: "Ah-h, yes-s, the lady."

Dr. Lyman H. Harris, history professor, lectured on China and Japan Monday, December 2, before the League of Women Voters at their club rooms in Aquila Court.

In The Cards

Howard Sorensen is a six-foot four senior tackle, all-conference selection for three years, who played his best game against North Dakota U. Besides being a candidate for a Rhodes scholarship, he is also one of the worst beefers on the varsity and the best authority on Shakespeare.

Besides being the champion hog-caller of Lincoln Township, Walnut, Ia., Harold Johnk plays center on the varsity. "Dutch" has been all-conference for three years and still has another year of competition left. And, boy, can his mother ever cook—don't ask!

Boyce Brown, sophomore full-back, is a good defensive man and blocker. He blocked a punt in the Dakota game for Omaha's only score. Outside of kissing girls after football games while he still has his suit on, for a lousy two-bit bet, he's O. K.

Everyone knows the "Shenan-doah Streak," Fred Tyler. How can they help it? He divides his time among four or five girls, when he isn't playing halfback, but the girls don't seem to mind. Some people say that he doesn't worry, but it can be remembered when he was doing plenty of the same. Yes, and he can eat, too!

Johnny "Touchdown" Donlon is the Lochinvar of the squad. They didn't have any moleskins small enough for John so they cut a leg out of the uniform of "Blimp" Blunt, freshman tackle, and made John a whole outfit. If Johnny could only forget the "Great Lover" complex, he might make a swell toe dancer.

"Dear Doctor" Russell Riggins is one of the scrappiest guards Omaha ever had. Russ has two more years to improve and should be something or somebody before then if he would only get to class on time and stop drinking perfume.

Melvin Boldenow is that shiny finger-nailed end. Yeh, his gal makes him put that goey stuff on them! "Baldy," although only a sophomore, was all-conference this year, and should be one the next two. The only difference between Melvin and any other good end is that he can't catch a pass.

The people who know Frank Crawford well call him by his full name—Francis James Joseph Crawford, Junior; but he likes to be called "Butch." A junior, Butch played some swell ball this year and although he had a broken arm after the North Dakota U. game, he was so tough that he didn't even put it into a cast until the day of the Chadron game.

Gerald Gardner represents two hundred and twenty-two pounds of reckless wildcat. He has a body built by "battle." Gerry plays tackle and in the two years he has left on the varsity he should develop into one of the best linesmen at Omaha. Handicapped by a bad knee most of the season, Gerry nevertheless kept on the starting line-up through sheer grit and ability.

Women's Squad
Places Fourth

The University of Omaha women's debate squad placed fourth in the annual intercollegiate debate tournament at Blair, Nebr., Friday, November 22. The tournament was sponsored by the Alpha chapter of Alpha Sigma Chi, national forensic fraternity, and was held at Dana college.

The University's team was composed of Bernice Perimeter and Josephine Carroll.

CORRECT APPAREL FOR MEN AND WOMEN

Fifteen Report For Basketball

Approximately fifteen men reported for the initial basketball practice Monday, according to Johnny Baker, varsity cage coach. Among the fifteen are three lettermen from last year: Baade, Johnk, and Nelson.

Johnny Baker has been brushing the boys up a bit on the fundamentals of the game. They are working hard to begin the season with a victory over Wayne, whom they play December 13th.

The boys are not the least bit superstitious about the game to be played on Friday, the 13th. Wayne holds no jinx over Omaha University, for the Cardinals shattered that by defeating them in football, and they intend to repeat the same in basketball.

Wayne boasts of an unusually strong team this year, having eight lettermen returning, and many prospective candidates to choose from.

Award University $50,000 Judgment

Assistant City Attorney Wentstrand has approved the judgment confession of the city of Omaha, authorized by the city council, in favor of the University of Omaha for $50,087.28.

The amount has accumulated from terminal railway taxes credited to the city before 1934, which should have been credited to the University.

Regents Change Tuition Ruling

Several changes were made in the tuition rules of the University at a meeting of the Board of Regents Monday, November 25.

The new ruling provides that any unmarried person who has attained the status of a qualified voter and all unmarried persons who are dependent upon their own resources may enter the university on payment of the resident fees.

It is further provided that any person enjoying the right to resident tuition shall forfeit that right upon abandoning Omaha as his place of residence, but may regain the right upon meeting the foregoing rules.

The resident tuition rule applying to minors whose families reside in Omaha remains unchanged.

Twenty Gridmen Receive Letters

The football season closed with twenty members of the varsity squad receiving letters. Those receiving letters were: Frederick Tyler, Kenneth Turner, John Donlon, Leo Pearey, Morris Loder, Royce Brown, William Nelson, and Clifford Anderson, backs; Melvin Boldenow, Norman Sorensen, Jack Nelman, and Robert Flesher, ends; Howard Sorensen, Gerald Gardner, and Robert Frink, tackles; Noel King, Frank Crawford, Loren Gammon, and Russell Riggins, guards. NIAA Champs Beat Chadron

By defeating Chadron November 22 at the N. S. S. A. field by 28 to 0, the Cardinal gridmen remain the undefeated title holders in the N. I. A. A. conference. The win over Chadron was unnecessary as the Cards had the title rights clinched with three victories in the conference.

The game was very satisfying to the seniors and juniors as Chadron has defeated Omaha badly in the past. Sorensen was outstanding, scoring two touchdowns. Brown and Pearey also scored. Pearey played his usual outstanding, plunging, smashing passing game. The reserves played during much of the game to gain some minutes on their letters.

The outstanding play of the game was Pearey's last pass in the final seconds of the game; it was good for 54 yards, the longest he has made all season. Sorensen received it and took it over. This game closed Omaha's official football season.

Mr. Everett M. Hosman, extension director, has been appointed a member of the Americanization and Education committee of the state committee department of the Nebraska American Legion.

versity, one. Iowa State Teachers' College did not receive any places on the all-conference team because they did not play enough games.

The following championship awards were given: Football, North Dakota State. Basketball, North Dakota University. Track, Iowa State Teachers' College.

Dr. George A. Talbert of North Dakota University was elected president of the conference.

Omaha University was represented at the conference by Coach Sed Hartman and Dr. W. H. Thompson, chairman of the University's athletic board. They returned Thursday.

Those chosen for the all-conference team were: Ends—Sloan and Westgate, North Dakota State; Falgren, North Dakota U., and Delhl, South Dakota State. Sun-curing Turkish leaf tobacco. The tobacco is strung leaf by leaf and hung on long racks like you see below.

The aromatic Turkish tobaccos used in Chesterfield give them a more pleasing aroma and taste . . .

Every year we import thousands of pounds from Turkey and Greece

THE IMPORT DUTY alone is 35 cents a pound—but Turkish tobacco is necessary to a good cigarette.

The right amount of Turkish tobacco, blended with our mild, ripe home-grown tobaccos helps to give Chesterfields more aroma, helps to give them a more pleasing taste.
